MS Amlin and Brexit – Creating opportunity from uncertainty

What has happened?

Given the result of the vote on the proposed Brexit deal by the UK's Parliament, we wanted to assure you that whilst the outcome of the vote creates uncertainty for the UK, the EU and its global trading partners, it has no impact on our Brexit plans.

As per previous communications on this issue, all our plans have been developed on the basis of the worst case scenario, i.e. a "Hard Brexit". Therefore the operational plans and processes we established remain valid and untouched by this outcome.

This includes our plans for MS Amlin Underwriting Limited, trading through Lloyd's Brussels subsidiary; as well as the re-domiciling of MS Amlin Insurance SE, from London to Brussels.

What this means for you.

In December 2018, we launched our Guide to Brexit, click here to view the guide. This guide, along with our comprehensive Frequently Asked Questions document, click here to view, should provide Coverholders and Brokers with adequate and clear guidance on how to continue to trade with us prior to the planned departure date from the European Union of 29 March 2019.

Now that a Hard Brexit seems more likely, you should be aware that depending on the location of your clients and their risks, you may require additional licences and approvals. Please ensure you investigate the possible implications for your business, before 29 March 2019.

Next steps

If you have questions about Brexit and you wish to submit a question to us, please get in touch with your usual MS Amlin contact, or email us with your query at Brexit.project@msamlin.com

We shall continue to communicate our plans and progress whenever it is appropriate to do so.

Thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely,

MS Amlin
