Inland Hull

Navigating your way through the rules

Overcapacity and extensive government rules and regulations make today's Inland Hull market a challenging one to work in. And when it comes to insurance, you need a partner that can keep up with the rapid rate of change, and knows all the latest demands regarding machinery and third-party liability, such as agreed in the Strasbourg Convention, CLNI 2012. This is where MS Amlin comes in.

Dedicated team

We have dedicated teams for both underwriting and claims handling. They monitor changes as they occur and implement them when necessary, providing you with the best service possible.

Europe wide

Our team operates throughout Europe. We recognise that a single policy that satisfies all European markets may not be appropriate for all clients, and some prefer to use local or domestic wordings. Our familiarity with these wordings means we can offer Hull & Machinery insurance based on them or we can offer separate P&I insurance, using our own specialised P&I wording.

We also underwrite shares in the subscription market, and can potentially quote for any type of vessel, providing it is for professional use.

Your partner for a new world of opportunity

We understand your world, we have the necessary expertise and resources, and we're ready to work with you over the long term, together opening up a new world of opportunity.

We offer

Building on our knowledge of the market and its needs, we have developed an insurance product especially for the Inland Hull market. This covers:

- Hull & Machinery (all external causes, including inherent vice)
- Protection & Indemnity (including third-party liability, from the ground up)
- Legal liability in your capacity as ship owner (not covered by P&I, and only for Dutch clients)
- Legal counsel

On request, or when needed for clients' operations, we can add special clauses for:

- Specialist operations (workboats and dredging companies)
- Blockage of waterways
- Loss of hire (part of our Hull & Machinery cover)

We have our own wording, which is available on request in Dutch, English, German and French, and incorporates market specifics. We can also develop tailor-made clauses to cover your needs.
