Marine Liability

Making the most of complexity

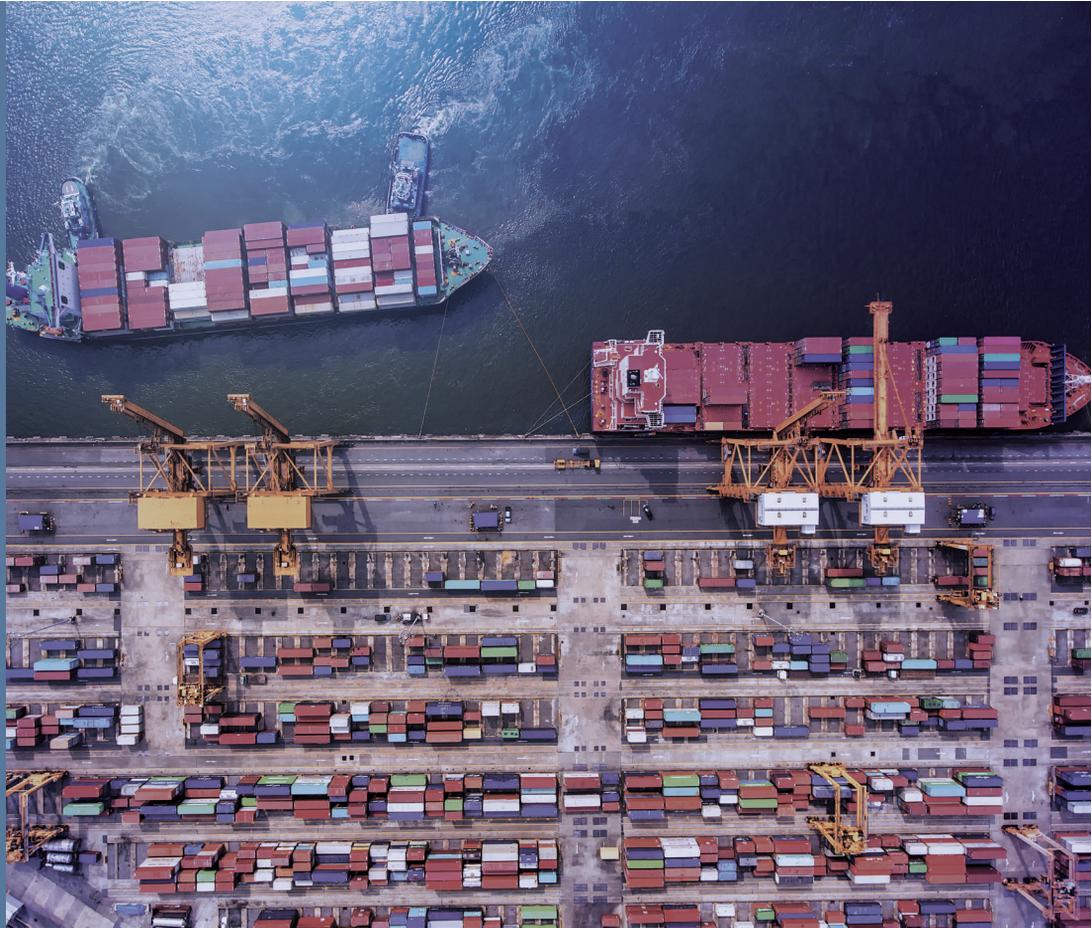

The logistics market is currently facing major challenges. Operators are under pressure to add more value to their services, and become one-stop shops. Businesses are exposed to a wide range of legal and contractual liability risks, often involving several jurisdictions. Operators may not always be aware of the extent of their liabilities when accepting an order. And yet those liabilities may be many. It is therefore more important than ever to pay close attention to contract language and the details of the cover.

The scale of our service

Based on our knowledge and experience, we have a good understanding of the risks our clients are confronted with and how to manage them.

Dedicated team

Our team consists of dedicated underwriters and claims handlers. We take a proactive approach and work with our clients to help them identify the potential risks of their legal and contractual liabilities and how they relate to the policy cover.
